Letter from Miss Jeanette Chan, School Supervisor

Dear Students,

It heartens me to see many of you actively challenging yourselves to get out of your comfort zone in recent school activities and competitions. Some have shared English stories on YouTube to help younger learners, which shows great creativity and the ability to express yourselves in English.

These are valuable skills that will help you succeed in future. Keep your passion and curiosity for learning English. Continue to set higher goals and embrace challenges. I believe that with hard work and strong will, all of you have the potential to become excellent English language users and achieve your dreams.

This collection of English works is a proof to your hard work. May our students keep shining in their English learning journey. All the best and keep up the good work!

Yours truly,
Miss Jeanette Chan
School Supervisor

Letter from Principal Li

Dear Students,

Seeing how you have shined and gained so much confidence in using English warms my heart. I can see all your efforts in overcoming challenges to enhance your English proficiency. Please continue challenging yourself by participating actively in class and taking up leadership roles in English-related school events or competitions.

The world is increasingly globalized, and English proficiency will create opportunities for you. Together, let us work towards building an English-speaking community within the school and shaping confident global citizens to make an impact on the world stage. This collection of English works shows how much you have grown on this journey. Keep up the excellent work!

Yours faithfully,
Principal Li

My Dancing Journey

4B FUNG TIERNEY

My Dancing Journey

I am nine years old now. Oh! I have learnt dancing for four years already. Remember when I was in primary 1, I wanted to learn dancing suddenly but I didn't know why. So I started my dancing journey.

I attended dance classes weekly in styles of jazz funk, popping, hip hop, wacking and locking. All styles were different in many ways, like the movement.

I love dancing very much. I dance and practice every day. I dance in the studio and my home. I love watching the dancers dance beautifully. I hope I can dance like them.

Dancing changes my life. It makes me happy. When I'm dancing, I feel relaxed every time. I think I will keep dancing forever.

One day, Tina and Jenny had an art lesson. They sat next to each other. They drew pictures. Tina was interested in Jenny's picture, so she took a look at it. Jenny struggled with the colour because she was not good at painting. Tina laughed at Jenny happily, "Haha! Your picture is ugly! My picture is more beautiful than yours." Other classmates laughed at Jenny as well.

Jenny disagreed with Tina. She was angry about that. Jenny shouted at Tina loudly, "You shouldn't comment on my picture. Mine is the most beautiful one. I hate you! I will not talk with you from now on!" Jenny and Tina started arguing and even fighting. The classmates didn't know what to do. They reported to their art teacher, Miss Chan. Miss Chan stopped Jenny and Tina. She told them fighting couldn't solve the problem. Jenny and Tina said sorry and apologized to each other.

After that, Jenny and Tina became good friends again. In the end, they knew that friendship was very important. They said together, "We are good friends. We will not fight each other from now on."

Yesterday, I was at the bank with my father. I was bored because I hate queuing. We were waiting in the queue when three robbers came into the bank.

One of the robbers pointed a gun at the security guard. He said, 'Take out the money.' Suddenly, the alarm went off.

The robbers tried to escape, however, the police arrived. Finally they chased the robbers and caught them.

An Accident

Today is Monday. Jessie and I were crossing the road while we were eating ice-cream. We chatted and found out that the green light turned into a red light.

We were about to run across the road. However, a car was rushing toward us. We were so nervous that we forgot to run away. When the car was less than half a meter away from us, Jessie suddenly reacted and pushed me to the side of the road. She was knocked a few meters away by the car.

After I realized it, I quickly ran to her side. She bled a lot and I was scared. We were surrounded by people who were taking pictures.

Fortunately, Miss Chow saw us and called an ambulance for us. Jessie went to the emergency room of the hospital for emergency treatment. I waited anxiously at the door. Miss Chow said to me, 'Jessie will be fine. Don't worry.'

In the end, Jessie was fine. The doctor told us that she had a broken hand and a broken foot, and she needed to be hospitalized for three months to recover. I felt relieved. I learnt that we should be careful when we cross the road.

An ... Night in September

A Surprise Night in September

September 11th was my birthday. I will never forget this year's birthday.

That morning, nobody mentioned about my birthday. I didn't say anything neither although I was disappointed. I brushed my teeth and washed my face as usual. Then went to school.

On my way to school, I met a lot of my classmates. They all ran over and said "Happy birthday" to me. I was very happy.

At the beginning of the Maths lesson, Miss Chan said, "Today is Jack's birthday. Let's bless him and say "Happy birthday" to him!" I was extremely happy. It made me more eager to learn. But I felt like something was missing...

After school, I went home alone. On my way home, I kept thinking about what was missing. But I couldn't figure it out.

My home is close to the school. I just thought about it for a while, and then I found I was already home. I knocked on the door and waited for my mother to get the door. Suddenly, my mother opened the door and said, "Happy birthday! Jack." Then she showed me the present. It was a teddy bear. It looked so cute. I was so moved that I began to cry and held my mother tightly. Suddenly, I realized what I was missing. What I lacked was not a present, but my mother's love!

Every time I see the teddy bear my mother gave me, I will think of my mother's sincere love!

On September 12, I went to Ocean Park with my mum. I was very excited. We went there by MTR. I brought some water and snacks with me.

Soon, we arrived at the park. I jumped up and down with excitement. First, we went to play on the bumper car. I heard many people shouting, "Ah!" and laughter was all around.

Then we played on teacups. I was dizzy because the cup turned around and around. I thought it was exciting. And we played many games after that.

In the evening, we went back home. My mum asked, "What do you want to eat?" And I said, "I want to eat spaghetti." My mum nodded her head and said, "Ok, then I'll cook spaghetti!"

At home, we cooked spaghetti together for dinner. We were very happy that day! What a good day!

Last month, I was busy but I had some good fun! There was a special day for me in September. My friends and I went to a big farm.

In the morning, we went to the farm by car. When we arrived, lots of farmers met us. We had been tired from our busy schoolwork, so we felt relaxed on the farm. Then we had a delicious lunch. In the afternoon, we helped the farmers feed the animals. I fed the rabbits because I thought they were very cute. Next, we picked the fruit, such as apples, oranges, strawberries and so on.

The strawberries were very fresh. We ate them and made some juice together. Finally, we went home by car. It was a special day for me because it was my first visit to a farm.

Today is a sunny day! Seems like the graduation ceremony will be doing great! I went to school by my car. I was already so excited about it when I entered the hall!

At first, the principal gave a speech. It took so long and was so boring! Most of the audiences (students) were already asleep. Finally, the principal finished her speech and then it was our show time!

All of us went on stage and started singing our graduation song and some teachers and parents even cried! We were too young to understand their tears. Then, each class did a drama show of 'Cinderella'! My character is a maid in the ball so I didn't have any lines! When we finished the show, we bowed to the teachers and our parents and we heard huge claps.

Eventually, we could now walk around the hall and do anything we want! I hugged my friends and cried in happiness. We took a picture together, I will keep it forever! Now, the memories of my class and friends keep coming back to me. I was touched and the tears won't stop. I will miss you all, my friends, I will never ever forget you all.

Tom's Dream Job

6B DU YI ZE, ETHAN

Tom's Dream Job

Since Tom was 7 years old, he had set a goal. It was his dream too.

"Dad! I'm so bored, can we go to the stadium and watch the football match?" Tom lay on the sofa and shouted. Dad responded, "Yeah! Of course we can if you want to." Then they went to the stadium jubilantly.

While he was watching the match, the football aroused Tom's interest in football. He said, "Daddy, I want to be a football player when I grow up!" Dad heard him and replied, "Yeah, you may join a football class first."

The next day, Tom joined the school Football Club and started intensive training so that their team could join the competition in Hong Kong.

One day, when he was doing training, he sprained his ankle and yelled with pain. The coach took him to the hospital at once. Luckily, it was not a bad injur. Although the path of being a football player was not easy, Tom didn't give up.

Now Tom is a grown up. He is a world-famous footballer. Tom tells us "Never give up! If you really love something, work hard, and we will reach our goal."

Festival

Last Mid-Autumn Festival, May was at home. She had dinner with her family and her relatives. They were her grandparents and Aunt Fifi's family. They felt pleased. May asked her mum excitedly, "What can we do after dinner?" Her mum told her patiently, "We can also eat some special fruit such as starfruit and persimmons."

After dinner, they went to the rooftop. The weather was good. They started to play with lanterns. While her mum was holding the lantern, the lantern was burning suddenly. May and her brother were scared.

They put off the fire with the water. They shared the lanterns and they played happily.

An Unforgettable Mid-Autumn Festival

At Mid-Autumn Festival, our whole family gathered and celebrated. We always went up to our house's rooftop. We lit our lanterns and ate tons of mooncakes because they were delicious. We all loved mooncakes.

Unfortunately, one of our family members, Cindy's lantern caught fire. My elder cousin Tony had pyrophobia so he screamed very loudly and ran downstairs as fast as the flash. One of my uncles called Uncle Richards, who was a firefighter, so he got a fire extinguisher to put out the fire on the lantern.

In the end, we took a deep breath and calmed down. We went downstairs to cheer Tony up and started celebrating again joyfully.

An Unforgettable Mid-Autumn Festival

Last Saturday evening, Jenny and her parents had a reunion dinner with their relatives at home to celebrate Mid-Autumn Festival. During the dinner, Mum suggested, "Let's eat mooncakes and play with lanterns on the rooftop after dinner." Jenny shouted excitedly, "Hurray!"

After dinner, the grown-ups set up a table on the rooftop. They sat together gazing at the huge full moon and eating some tasty festive food, such as mooncakes, pomelos, and star fruit. Meanwhile, Jenny and her cousins lit up their colourful lanterns with candles and carried them around joyfully.

When the children were having fun with their lanterns, Jenny's lantern caught fire suddenly. Jenny was so frightened that she dropped the burning lantern onto the ground immediately. She tried to stamp out the fire but it did not work. The fire even ignited a cardboard box nearby.

Jenny cried loudly, "Help! Help!" In the nick of time, Dad put out the fire with a bucket of water. Thankfully, no one was injured in the accident. Since it was too dangerous to play with candles lanterns, Jenny thought that she would rather play with LED lanterns in the future.

A Lesson for Kevin

The day before yesterday, Kevin went to the forest to look for some food because Kevin haven't eaten anything for two days! Kevin cried, "I'm about to faint."

When Kevin was about to faint, he saw a house and then he walked to the house with his last strength. He knocked on the door lightly. The door was not locked and Kevin opened it with a light push. Kevin looked inside the house and saw there was a lot of delicious food on the table like turkey, cake, different kinds of fruit. Kevin was surprised. He could not stop drooling! Kevin sat on the chair and started eating without asking the owner of the house. He took a cheese and ham sandwich and a green apple.

After Kevin finished the sandwich, he took a big bite off the green apple and suddenly an accident happened. Kevin turned into a pig, Kevin was shocked.

When he was still figuring out what had happened, he saw a note under the turkey, "You must bring the magic stone with you before tomorrow's 9 p.m. and put it under the turkey. If you fail, you will not turn back into a human again!"

Kevin didn't know where the magic stone was. He became a pig forever. This story tells us not to touch or eat anything does not belong to us. If you do, you have to take the consequences.

How to Save Endangered Animals

Last Sunday morning, my best friend Emma came back to Hong Kong from the U.S.A., so I picked Emma up at the airport with my brother Taran. Emma was excited because she hasn't come back to Hong Kong for ten years. Emma said, 'I want to go shopping in the shopping mall. Let's go!'

Then, we went to Hong Kong's most famous shopping mall, Monky Shopping Mall. We went to a bag shop. When Emma went into the shop, Emma said, 'The bag is so pretty, but the handbag is made of crocodile skin. It is bad for the environment!' Taran said, 'Don't worry! I buy it for you!' The atmosphere was very awkward so I said, 'I'm so hungry. Let's go to have lunch!'

After a while, we went to a seafood restaurant. Taran said, 'Shark fin soup is very yummy! Let's try it!' Emma was hungry too, so she came into the restaurant. Later, we sat down and ordered food. Taran said, 'Let's order shark fin soup! The shark fin soup here is very famous!'

Emma said, 'It's not good! Do you know sharks are endangered animals? If we still always eat shark fin soup, sharks will be extinct. Therefore we need to stop catching them. If you want to learn more about endangered animals, you can join the environment groups.' Taran and I said, 'I know! I will save the world and animals!'

I also want to buy some souvenirs too,' Mary replied.

In the shopping mall, they went to a handbag shop. 'Wow! These handbags are so nice and beautiful. What do you think, Mary?' May said. 'Oh, no! These handbags are made of crocodile skin. It is so cruel!' Mary shouted. 'Really? Then I will not buy them,' May said and left the shop.

After shopping for a few hours, they all felt hungry. Peter saw a seafood restaurant and then asked, 'There is shark fin soup, it is very yummy. Shall we have dinner here?' 'Um... I think we should not have shark fin soup because it is made of shark fin. It is so cruel and also all sharks are endangered animals too.' Mary explained. 'Yes, I agree with you. Finally, they went to a pizza restaurant and have a rich dinner.

Youtube Storytelling Video Program

In the 2022-23 academic year, our school made a new attempt to promote English reading by encouraging students to film themselves telling English stories and uploading the videos to the school's official YouTube channel. As of June 2023, the videos have received over 60,000 views in total, demonstrating excellent results. This initiative not only encourages students to read English books on their own but also provides an opportunity for the school mates to explore new trends and technologies.
